The Octavia sets a sumptuous standard for the larger bathroom. It has a large, oval, double-ended design and a beautifully sculpted stepped rim. Since the rim is ornamental, it is seldom undermounted. The Octavia may be inset into a deck of any traditional material, including wood, as shown above.

The Calyx deep soaking tub is the minimalist version of the Nirvana and it comes in two sizes. The aim of the Calyx models' design was the optimisation of bathing/showering space. This was achieved with a near 30% proportionate increase in water surface compared to the Nirvana.

Bespoke Baths

Because each bath is custom built using our own proprietary materials, we can offer options available from no other manufacturers. These permit customers to specify unique and personal features.

Finish

While our baths are normally high gloss they can also be supplied in matt finish, or we can prime a surface for painting/faux marble or rag-rolling/paper or cloth. At any place in the surface of a product at which there is a defined line, the finish or colour can be changed. The options are almost unlimited and some few are shown on the right. In gloss two colours are possible.

Colour

We consistently match any current – and many past - sanitaryware colours in our standard pricing. For a small charge we shall match ANY colour – tile, paint, textile, or the base colour in marble. To do this we need a sample 75mm, or 3", square.

Dimensions

In panels and baths with square outside edges the external dimensions can often be increased or decreased for an extra charge. Please ask about your specifics. Panels can be reduced in height, as can bath deck outside rims.

Full customisation

Our parent company, Design & Form Ltd, specialises in bespoke custom one-off and small number projects. The telephone number is 01524 66022 and email is admin@designandform.info.

Hydrotherapy

Just as Cabuchon Bathforms developed a superior material from which to make baths, so it has developed its own proprietary hydrotherapy system to utilise the latest technology and to maximise customer benefits. Just as a hand massage needs to be individually tailored to the specific client to be effective, so too does a hydrotherapy system for well-being, for healing, and for relaxation.
